CRAZY QUILTERS GUILD NEWSLETTER - April, 2019

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE - By Vicki Nardone

Good day Quilters!

I've been reflecting on some feedback I received since our last meeting, and it is all about what a warm and welcoming environment our meetings have become! I am quite proud of that and you should be too, because it takes all of us to make that happen. I join clubs because I have a passion for the craft, or subject, but I stay for the camaraderie, support, and fun. I would guess many of you feel the same way, so let's keep that in mind and continue this great trajectory we are on. And, did you notice every seat in the House was taken?? Setting up another table at our next meeting to accommodate the onslaught of new members 😊.

Quilt in Public Day on the 16th was a lot fun! We had peeps at both the LW library and Laguna Cafe. We also sold raffle tix for our opportunity quilt, so all-in-all, it was a great day! Thanks tons to all who worked the event and shared their passion.

Our quilt show is around the corner and there is still so much to be done and so many opportunity tickets to be sold! Please swing by the quilt studio on Thursday afternoon to sign up to help if you haven't already done so. With Ann Ainsworth relocating and leaving the club, who knows who else will have the energy to tackle this in the future, so let's make this show a hum-dinger!

At next month's meeting, we will have an opportunity quilt from the Flying Geese Quilt Guild, so make sure you bring your moolah - this quilt is pretty cute!

Remember to ask for our new "calling" cards from Linda when you check in at the next meeting. They offer prospective members a free meeting, and each one with your name on the back gives you a chance at a great prize later in the year!

Ok that's it from me. As always, your comments, concerns, and suggestions are always welcome.

Happy quilting!
Vicki

SHOW AND TELL – By Audrey Bowman

At the March meeting, we had for member for Show and Tell.

Linda Nelson showed us two small quilts. The Lighthouse design, from By the Sea, is paper pieced. The second quilt is by Jo Morton a traditional quilter.

Shari Riter Shared the “Firehouse T – Shirt “ quilt. The quilt was created from T-Shirts from a Laguna Hills Fireman. The T-Shirts were all from places he visited or stations he served at.

Fran Nuelle showed her “Oregon 3 Sisters” quilt. Coming from Oregon she had to buy the pattern at Road to California last year.

Ruth Bailey showed “Luna’s Birthday” Luna said she wanted purple and so it was.

FEBRUARY MEETING PROGRAM – By Ann Davis

The presentation at our March meeting from Stephania Bommarito was entertaining, educational and inspiring. Stephania exhibited small quilt creations that each had its own whimsy and creative techniques which were accompanied by a story. Her fantastical stories explained how the pieces came together or what the quilts would do once completed.

(Here's a few pictures to wet your whistle. All of the pictures (40) are available on the Crazy Quilters website.)
